The way the Key-Box automated key system works is each individual user would be issued a preselected personal PIN number the user would then enter his/her PIN on the key pad located on the key cabinet. The cabinet door would automatically open and only release the keys they are authorized to have all the rest of the keys in the key cabinet would stay locked in place. The system would record when the keys were taken and when they are returned. If the keys are not returned within the curfew period the system would automatically generate an email and send out to management or security to alert them that a key or keys have not been returned within the curfew period and who the user is etc. The system would give you full audit trail 24/7 of who took the keys, when they were returned etc. The system will also make your staff more accountable for your facilities valuable keys.
